

Documentation is memory.

A company without written memory re-debates the same call every six months.

Write the decision. Write why. Write who decided. Write what you would need to see to change your mind.

Future you will thank present you. So will the person who joined yesterday.

| If it is not written, it did not happen.

